FRENCH TAKE HILL 304 IN A SHARP ATTACK

Are Now Master of All the Important
Positions on the Verdun Front

(By Associated Press)
In a brilliant attack this morning the French took Hill 304, around which many struggles of the war have taken place.

The new French assault was delivered on the Meuse in a much shorter period than any previous offensive.

The French are now masters of all the important positions on the Verdun front which they held prior to a year ago.

On the British front a bitter battle was waged for the possession of Juncourt. Portuguese troops who are holding a section, yesterday, repulsed the German attacks near La Basse.

Heavy artillery fighting continues on the Ypres where the British have improved their position and succeeded in repelling counter attacks.

Some of the heaviest fighting of the war is in progress on the Franco-Belgian front.

A series of attacks have been made on Metz, Puyburg and other towns.

Many tons of metal have been dropped by British military planes doing much damage to military objectives.

The Russian official statement makes no statement of fighting in the Riga region.

Houston, Texas, August 24.—Fourteen whites and one negro are dead and more than twenty persons, including two white girls were injured as the result of an outbreak by the colored troops of the 24th infantry who last night left their camp at Camp Logan and began firing promiscuously at the whites.

For several hours a scene of confusion reigned.

Today the city is under martial law proclaimed by Governor Ferguson.

Among those killed were Captain Nats an officer of the Illinois regiment, whose body after being killed, was mutilated almost beyond recognition.

Feeling among the Illinois troops was at a high pitch and was only allayed by the arrival of the regulars from Fort Crockett.

Witnesses of the negro shooting, say that the men who took part, took deliberate aim and shot at their victims with the intent to kill.

Congressman Engle when Secretary of War Baker that the sending of negro troops here was a huge blunder and protested against any more being sent here.

He asked that these here be withdrawn.

According to the police the trouble arose over the arrest of a negro woman in the downtown section. As she was being taken to the police station a negro soldier demanded that the policeman turn the woman over to him. This the officer refused to do and it led to an argument and the arrest of the soldier.

Washington Will Take Action

Washington, August 24.—Senator Sheppard after a conference with Secretary of War Baker announced that the negro troops concerned in the outbreak at Houston would be withdrawn from that section.

Later, Secretary Baker after receiving the first official report announced that he could not act until after he had investigated.

SAYS ENGLAND IS THEIR ARCH ENEMY

(By Associated Press)
Copenhagen, Aug. 24.—England is the arch enemy of Germany and must be beaten at whatever the cost, Emperor William declared in a recent address to his troops. He said: "It is in God's hand when we will win. He has taught our armies to fight with the old confidence. The greater and mightier the problem the firmer we should grasp it. All Germans have realized who is the real instigator of the war. Everybody knows that England is our most spiteful adversary. She encourages the hatredfulness of all of her allies. England is our most bitter enemy and with God's help we shall win."

WAR BOARD HAS GOOD LUCK TODAY

Another Call of 250 on the Way; Cases of Missing
Men Reported to District Attorney.

The war board was much pleased with the work today and a very few rejections were necessary in the examinations.

The board gave notice today that it would place at once a complaint against three missing members who have failed to put in appearance up to August 23. The district attorney will be advised of the fact that they are missing and the law will then take its course.

In the matter of transfers the board has made 50 up to date.

The fourth appeal case from this district to the state board was made today in the person of Guy Wiggin of Plaistow. He failed to provide the necessary proof for exemption before the board during the time required.

Eight out of thirty-eight examined on Thursday passed the physical examination. During the afternoon one of the non residents appeared for discharge on the grounds that he was engaged as administrator of his father's estate.

On Thursday afternoon the following applied for exemption or discharge:

Hugo Gobbi, Portsmouth, resident alien.

Frank Wadja, Newmarket, resident alien.

Alfred T. Jenkins, Portsmouth, now of Rochester, married man.

Elmer C. Weinholt, Portsmouth, navy yard workman, married man.

The board will consider a greater part of next week on the examination of non resident men.

The next call will be made probably next week and about 250 men will be ordered to appear for examination.

WILD BLACKBERRIES FOR THE TROOPS

Washington, D. C., August 24.—Wild blackberries picked by children will help the army and navy to get the eleven million pounds of blackberry jam they must have. In view of the shortage of cultivated blackberries, the United States Department of Agriculture urges the women and girls and boys to gather all the blackberries they can find, to supply commercial canning establishments.

Blackberry jam is particularly desirable because it has medicinal qualities which counteract certain intestinal troubles, in addition to its welcome place in the diet as a sweet.

The wild fruit is not as pulpy and is likely to be more seedy than the cultivated varieties, but there is an abundance in many of the northern states. The difficulty of getting help on a commercial scale has prevented the gathering of the wild berries. But if the children can be enlisted to do their patriotic part, it will give the pickers a chance to supply what the military authorities need. It is also pointed out that at the prevailing prices they may get good return for their time and labor.

In each community some local grocer should be able to learn the name of a manufacturer who may be willing to buy the berries. In New York, for example, the canneries are so numerous throughout the state that little trouble should be experienced in finding a market.

LOCAL DRAFT BOARDS MUST SPEED UP

War Department Wants 30 Per Cent of Men Mobilized
by Sept. 5.

Concord, N. H., August 24.—The district board was forced to adjourn yesterday afternoon until Monday, August 27th for lack of cases to consider. In many cases local boards had not received complete data on each man every case on which they reported. A letter from Governor Keyes was presented to the board, stating that the war department demanded that 30 percent of the draft be certified in sufficient time to be mobilized September 5th. Unless the local board speeds up materially there is great danger that the district board cannot comply with this request. Telegrams were therefore sent to every local board in the state, urging them to get in as many completed cases as possible between now and Monday.

At yesterday's meeting a letter was read from the chairman of the special committee, comprising all the chairmen of the district boards in Massachusetts, urging the acceptance of the rules adopted by their special committee in the interpretation of the regulations of the war department. It was voted by the New Hampshire board to accept these rules for their guidance, with the exception of Paragraph 2, Section D. The New Hampshire board did not wish to establish any hard and fast rule, which might require a mother with dependent children to enter industrial work for the support of herself and family. It believes that such cases should be decided on their individual merits and not by a general ruling.

The district board, in determining whether an appeal it will affirm, modify or reverse a local board, will be guided in part by the following rules and regulations:

1. The fact that the registrant has a wife or child, or both, is not in itself a sufficient reason for discharge on the ground of dependency.

Rule for Dependents
2. A registrant is not in a status with respect to persons dependent upon him for support which renders his discharge desirable within the meaning of the selective draft act.

(a) If the registrant is possessed of means or property from any source, whether principal or income, sufficient to support his wife and child, or children during the term of his service.

(b) If the wife is possessed of means or property from any source, whether principal or income, sufficient to support his wife and child, or children during the term of service of her husband.

(c) If the child or children, of the registrant are possessed of means or property which may be lawfully used for the sufficient support of the wife of the registrant and his child, or children, during his term of service.

(d) If the wife of the registrant, taken into consideration all the circumstances, such as the necessity of caring for her children and state of health, is of sufficient earning capacity to enable her to support herself and child, or children, during the term of service of the registrant.

(e) If there are relatives of the registrant or his wife, who in the opinion of the board, are able and likely sufficiently to support the wife and child, or children during the term of service of the registrant.

Sufficient support is used in the above means such as will enable the family to live in a manner free from want, and provided with the necessities of life. The condition of life and earning capacity of registrant are not to determine the necessities of the alleged dependents.

Dependency in each case is a question of condition and must be determined upon the evidence finally submitted.

3. The above principles will be applied to the consideration of applicants for discharge based upon the existence of all classes of dependents.

4. Persons who reside abroad are not "dependents" within the meaning of the selective draft act. The purpose of the act in permitting discharge to registrants because they have dependents, was to prevent such dependents from becoming a charge upon the American people. This cannot happen if such alleged dependents do not reside in this country.

Attorneys Barred
5. No formal hearing on appeal or upon matters within the original jurisdiction of the district boards will be granted or held, in view of the pressure of work attorneys will not be given permission to appear. The board reserves the right to make such investigation as it deems proper, to place it in possession of the necessary facts to act impartially.

6. The burden of proof is upon the appellant and in cases within the original jurisdiction of the board on the applicant to establish his case.

7. No applications for discharge en bloc will be received.

8. Affidavits may be taken before any officer or magistrate authorized to administer oaths in this commonwealth and related the commonwealth before a notary public, whose name must be attached.

9. Particular attention should be given to the preparation of affidavits. They must be sworn to by the registrant and must contain the facts and

Scient to put the board in possession of knowledge necessary to determine the application for exemption or discharge with full justice to the applicant or applicant. More general statements are of no assistance to the board. The following suggestions are made for guidance in comparing affidavits for discharge on the ground of industrial or agricultural occupation, but are not intended to fully cover all the information required:

Form for Applicants

(a) What is the line or department of work of the applicant?

(b) How many persons are employed by the applicant or employer of the applicant in a similar line or department of work?

(c) Number of men and number of women so employed?

(d) How many men so employed between the ages of 21 and 31 years on June 5, 1917?

(e) What is the principal product of such line or department?

(f) How long has the applicant been employed by his present employer in this line or department?

(g) How long has the applicant been employed by his present employer in any other line or department, and if so, in what department?

(h) State length of time applicant has been employed in the several departments or lines or work referred to in the two preceding questions, either for present or any other employer.

(i) Is the applicant superintendent, foreman or operative?

(j) What salary or wages did the employee receive on January 1, 1917, on March 1, 1917, on June 5, 1917, and at the date of the application?

(k) State specifically the nature of the product of the employer and whether the employer is engaged in the manufacture or production of material for the government, or for use in connection with the manufacture?

Agricultural Occupation
(a) Do you own or operate a farm?

(b) If so, state the nature and the amount of the product for the years 1916 and 1917, and size of the farm.

(c) How long have you been engaged in farming?

(d) When did your present occupation begin?

(e) What was your occupation prior to your present one?

(f) Where and with whom did you reside on January 1, 1917?

(g) When, approximately, will the crops or product with which your present occupation is concerned be harvested?

10. In these rules the word "applicant" is used only in connection with an appeal from a decision of the local board. The word "applicant" refers to the person filing with the district board in the first instance a claim for discharge based upon industrial occupation, including agricultural.

In the proposed adoption of these rules the district boards, in endeavoring to carry into effect the principles of the selective war act and the rules and regulations prescribed by the President, which have the effect of law, realize that under the most favorable conditions war brings hardships and most unusual burdens upon our people. The boards must take into consideration that the purpose of the act is to raise an army.

WILL STUDY EDUCATIONAL CONDITIONS

(By Associated Press)
Tokio, August 24.—The prime school superintendents selected from all parts of Japan will sail from Yokohama September 19 for the United States. They are going to study the educational conditions in the leading cities of America, especially paying attention to education in war time. Most of the teachers are head masters of primary schools.

MUSICAL AT GREEN ACRE

Greenacre was given a pleasant surprise at the "Elmwood" on Wednesday evening, Aug. 23, when a lecture-recital on "The Art of the Song and Ballad" was given by Mr. A. L. Kallen of Boston and New York, who exposed the subject and the famous Polish tenor, Mr. Harvin Lore, who sang; and Mr. Cyrus Ullian, a pianist of rare ability.

It is to be regretted that the time did not allow of a fuller unfolding of a subject which proved to be of great interest in regard to both the manner and the nature of the material used.

Mr. Kallen dealt especially with the place of Schubert in the development of the "Art Song" in relation to the function and legitimate use of media in musical utterance.

Mr. Lore, whose name is already well known to the lovers of the Lied, sang with a voice which rang out clear and true, possessing a quality which only a few are fortunate enough to be gifted with. He has qualities of refined sensibility and character which go to make a truly successful singer.

Mr. Ullian, the accompanist, made most obvious the fact that an accompanist can be as much in the foreground as the artist. His part was really a display of a genuine understanding of what musical accompaniment should be.

Among the illustrations were German and Russian folk songs and some of Schubert's most celebrated vocal compositions.

CONSCRIPTION MADE AN ISSUE

Anti-Draft Party Expects to Win Fight in Canada.

Montreal, August 24.—Political measures rather than violence are expected to be adopted by the French-Canadians in their opposition to the draft, according to latest developments here. A strenuous campaign is being conducted all the way across Canada to make conscription the big issue of the coming election, which the anti-draft party expects to win.

Quebec, the stronghold of the anti-draft forces, where trouble has generally been expected, provided an effort to enforce the compulsory service measure is undertaken, returns 65 members to the house of commons. Of these, it is conceded, by the opposing faction, 50 will be against conscription from beginning to end.

The Liberal party is expected to make the draft bill its main bid for a return to power, by nominating candidates who will express as strongly as possible their views that the bill should be repealed.

Mr. Wilfred Laurier, the most important figure in the Liberal party, will have, from the first not only the backing of the French-Canadians of Quebec and lower Ontario, but the active support and votes of 500,000 German and Austrian immigrants who are naturalized Canadians. They have settled in Middle Canada and in the Northwest.

The Conservatives, now in power, admit that the outlook is dark and that even though they gain a majority in the commons, the upper house—where conscription won by only one vote—may defeat the measure. However, they believe that Borden has behind him a more united party than Laurier.

KITTERY

KITTERY POINT

Kittery Point, August 24.—A happy birthday party was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Clark when their little daughter, Anna Frances, observed her seventh birthday anniversary. Games were enjoyed on the lawn and broad piazza during the first part of the afternoon.

A donkey game caused much merriment for the little folks, Elizabeth Meade and Robert Curtis winning the favors. After the games the little ones were invited to the dining room, where refreshments of ice cream, cake, fancy cookies and fruit punch were served. The tables were tastefully decorated. Favors were found at each plate for the guests and a handsome birthday cake adorned the center of the table, with seven lighted candles. Little Miss Anna Frances was well remembered by her young friends with many pretty gifts.

The invited guests were Phyllis Wilson, Charles Abrams, Adah Abrams, Langdon Ward, Clara Currier, Granville Berry, Melton Wood, Robert Curtis, Elizabeth Mead, Billy Howells, Grace Seeger, Jack Hoyells, Ruth Seeger, Richard Seeger, Alice Patay, Sherman Clark.

SAVES LIFE OF EX-GOV. FLOYD

Fire Auto Driver Does Heroic Work.

Manchester, N. H., August 24.—Quick thinking and expert driving by James S. Long a driver of the Manchester fire department, saved the life yesterday morning of ex-Governor Charles M. Floyd of New Hampshire. Long was driving a fire engine to a fire, going at usual high speed, when the former chief executive of the state turned his carriage directly in the path of the apparatus.

A sharp turn between two electric cars, dodging vehicles by a hair's breadth, brought the auto in an instant safely through the danger zone, turned in the opposite direction. An application of the brakes would have sent it crashing against the Floyd team. Facing this situation, Long had not a second for reflection.

The above accounts for Mr. Floyd's visit to the fire station later in the day to present a crisp $100 bill to Long. Long has been a member of the department six years. The fire was of little account.

ITALIAN ARMY CLOSE TO REALIZATION OF ITS MAIN OBJECTIVE

Austrians Reported to be Moving Valuables from Trieste to Vienna—Germans Gaining in Battle South of Riga

The great offensive of the Italians daily continues to gain important advances against the Austrians despite the strong resistance and determined counter attacks of the enemy and the forces of General Cardona are believed to be close to gaining their objective—the capture of Trieste.

In their new offensive the Germans operating south of Riga are delivering mighty blows against the Russians and are making gains.

On the French front near Verdun the French army continues to hold all its recently won positions despite the strong counter attacks launched by the German Crown Prince. At Lens the Canadians continue to gain new positions in their drive against the coal center held by the Germans while in Belgium near Ypres the British are continuing their drive against the enemy making gains of from one half mile to a few hundred yards in depth at several points.

On the northern and Southern ends of the battle line of the Austro-Italian struggle on the Isonzo the Italians continue to press forward making new gains. The Austrian counter attacks are being made with extreme violence but at no point have they succeeded in dislodging the Italians from their positions nor in slowing up the advance.

For three days the Italians have been able to withstand the greatest attacks southeast of Dossio Wall and have already taken more than 15,000

Austrian prisoners.

The extent of the operation is not yet apparent but it is held that the successes gained by General Cardona's men points to an early achievement of its objective and on the whole of the thirty-seven mile battlefront great progress is being made. That the Austrians realize the possibility of the Italian success is shown in the reports that they are removing the valuable art treasures and other materials from Trieste to Havanna and other places in Austria. The chief British military observer with the Italian army says that the Italians are gaining an important victory and that should they obtain their objective they will have gained a victory of the first magnitude.

Russians Falling Back.

Rear of Riga the Russians are falling back before the Teutonic drive from Dageissem on the Gulf of Riga through Tukkuin and Cammon to the banks of the upper An river. The fighting is progressing twenty miles from Riga in the Lake Rait sector.

The German official statement of the Riga operations says that the Russians are falling back before the Teutonic drive without offering any resistance, burning and destroying towns and villages as they are evacuated. To the south in Volhynia the Russians are offering a stiff front to the Germans and are making gains of some importance. In the Roumanian theatre the Russo-Roumanian troops are reported to be pushing back the German invaders.

we pay the bill for the war by taxation. They are exceedingly sensitive about placing a dollar of the burden upon future generations. Their consciences are punctured to the core at the suggestion that 50 years from now men may have to bear a share of the costs.

"If you want to make this war and bill unpopular with the people of small and moderate incomes, you can do it very effectively by adopting the La Follette amendment."

M'MILLAN'S EXPEDITION ON WAY HOME

New York, Aug. 23.—A wireless despatch dated yesterday was received here today from Donald B. McMillan, head of the Arctic exploration expedition on the steamship Neptune, by President Henry Fairfield Osborn, of the American Museum of Natural History, stating that all were well and indicating that all his collections and equipment were safe on board the vessel. This message supplements despatches received from St. Johns, N. F., last night stating that the Neptune was off the coast of Labrador and would reach St. Johns Sunday.

Today's despatch said:

"All well. Everyone and everything on board. Have left Disco, by Hans Egede in July. Ice very heavy. McMillan left the ship. Captain Rob did this work. Probably proceed to St. Johns."

It was understood by this despatch that the Neptune, which reached the McMillan party base at Etah, August 1, took on board all the members of the expedition which had been marooned in the far north for nearly four hours. The heavy mentioned is Dr. Edmund O'Shea, curator of geology at the museum, who took a relief expedition for the McMillan party but himself suffered, had luck, and spent some time with the marooned explorers. He arrived in Copenhagen two weeks ago. It was said, and is expected here within a day or two.

"Captain Rob" mentioned in Mr. McMillan's wireless is Captain Robert Bartlett, commander of the Neptune. The opinion was expressed at the museum that the explorers would reach this city within four or five days.

NEW ENGLAND'S QUOTA FOR AIR SERVICE FILLED

Boston, Aug. 23.—The success which has crowned the efforts of Lieutenant Charles J. Glidden and his assistants of the aviation division of the Signal Officers' Reserve Corps, in their campaign for enlistment for the American Air Service is indicated by the announcement that the full New England quota of 1,600 will be signed before tomorrow night. This, however, will not mark the end of the local activity for recruits, for the department will continue to receive applications until ordered by the War Department to cease. It is the belief of Lieutenant Glidden that 6,000 young men can be signed in New England for the aviation and balloon pilot positions.

Of the first 100 applicants to pass the physical examination for balloon pilots, as first lieutenants, 93 were from Massachusetts, 2 from Maine, one each from New Hampshire and Rhode Island and three from states outside New England. Thirty cities and towns in Massachusetts sent in from one to two each. From Boston 27 applications were received, 10 from Cambridge, 7 from Brookline, 7 from Somerville, 4 from Waltham, 3 from Lynn.

The aeronautical department offices at 25 Huntington avenue are open every evening from seven to eight o'clock.

SHIP LEGISLATION PLACES BURDEN ON BRITISH OWNER

(By Associated Press)

London, Aug. 21.—Prediction that British shipowners would be handicapped after the war by restrictions imposed because of the great conflict was uttered by Baron Furness, of Furness, Withy & Co., in an address delivered at the annual meeting of that corporation. Declaring that it was right that the ministry of shipping should possess power to withdraw tonnage from any trade and apply it to those routes on which it best serves immediate war purposes, he added:

"But the fact remains that permanent injury is being done to the future of shipping, because, whatever

FIVE DOLLARS A TON FOR HARD COAL AT MINE

President Wilson Fixes Prices for Coal and Regulates Prices Middlemen May Charge—Garfield Appointed Head of Board

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 23.—The price for anthracite coal was fixed tonight in a statement issued by President Wilson and Henry A. Garfield, president of Williams College, already the head of one important body, was named chairman of the coal committee.

In the statement the President fixes Sept. 1 as the time and the price for anthracite coal from $1.00 to $5.00 a ton (2,240 pounds), F. O. B. mines.

Jobbers will not be allowed to sell at more than 20 cents increase east of Buffalo and not more than 30 cents increase at points west of Buffalo, by the President's order.

The jobber is permitted to sell bituminous coal at an increase of 15 cents may be the changes occasioned by the war, it is quite certain that this country will have to trade internationally. It will require its mercantile marines with the accompanying long distance foreign trades, after the war as it did before. When that time arrives and shipowners again look to the trades which they have vacated and which represent the result of their past enterprise, thrift and determination, they will find them occupied by foreign lines and we will then have to consider the strength of the latter's entrenchments and our power to recover that which we have sacrificed.

"My feeling is that new legislation is going to impose a heavy handicap on the British shipowner, and make the contest, which would in any case be an uphill one owing to unavoidable causes, still more uneven. In the meantime foreign owners are making huge profits from the high freight rates and which are steadily still more inflated by the elimination of British competition. They are accumulating large reserves and, attracting substantial capital with which to continue the war.

JAPANESE WRITER PUNISHED FOR HIS ARTICLE

Tokio, Aug. 21.—The appeal filed by Daikichiro Tagawa, formerly Parliamentary Under-Secretary to the Department of Justice and a member of the House of Representatives, accused of a lese-majeste, has been rejected at the Tokyo Court of Appeal.

Mr. Tagawa was sentenced to five months imprisonment and fined $50 in the court of first instance for writing an article in which he attacked the Genro, or elder statesman for, interference in the last ministerial change. The article was interpreted by the judicial authorities as having affected the dignity of the imperial family.

CALLS THE MASSES ANTI-WAR LEADER

Burleson Says Socialist Magazine Clearly Violates Espionage Law.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The Masses, a Socialist magazine published in New York, was denounced by Postmaster General Burleson in a communication to the Senate today, as a leader in organized propaganda to discourage enlistments, prevent subscriptions to the Liberty Loan and obstruct the Draft Act. He mentioned the Jeffersonian, of which Thomas E. Watson is editor, as in the same class.

Mr. Burleson declined to give more specific reasons for hating the Masses from the mails, saying such information was incompatible with the public interest. In response to the Senate's resolution of inquiry, presented by Senator Hardwick, the Postmaster General wrote to Chairman Rankin of the Post Office Committee saying:

"From matter received by this department from various sections of the country, I find there is an organized propaganda to discredit and handicap in every way the Government in the prosecution of this war with the clear and unmistakable purpose of defeating the objects for which the Government is spending millions of dollars, and probably will be called upon to sacrifice thousands of lives.

"The publications forming a part of this propaganda in many cases so guard their utterances as the editors think will keep them out of prison. They are nevertheless united in publishing the same class of matter whether it be true or half true or wholly false, and are daily accomplishing results clearly in violation of the Espionage Law. Common among the publications stand the Masses and the Jeffersonian. Their respective editors are leaders in the movement. Their writings and speeches are quoted with approval by the press of this character throughout the country, as well as in circular matter emanating from the same source."

HOLLAND SEEKS TO FLOAT NEW INDIA LOAN

The Hague, Netherlands, Aug. 21.—The government is asking parliament to authorize the issue of a loan of $20,000,000 on behalf of the Netherlands East Indies, bearing 5 percent interest.

This would bring the total of loans issued since the beginning of the war up to $77,000,000 and the total aggregate debt of the colony to $133,000,000. The immediate object of the loan is the consolidation of the floating debt, but it is ultimately destined to pay for the laying of railroads, construction of harbors and the like.

London, Aug. 21.—The officers of the Hamburg-American line in Cockspur street, where so many passages have been booked in pre-war days for America, have been sold to the P. and O. Steamship Company for $301,600.

SHIPPING NEEDS ESTIMATE GIVEN TO MR. M'ADOO

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 23.—Estimates calling for $125,000,000 for the Emergency Fleet Corporation campaign for 1917 were handed tonight to Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury and Congress will be asked to appropriate the money as soon as the President gives his approval. The new appropriation asked by the corporation is designed to take care of all their needs to the close of the fiscal year.

If the sum is appropriated by Congress it will, in addition to the three quarters of a billion already voted, bring the total appropriation up to a little short of $2,000,000,000.

NEGRO SOLDIERS IN TROUBLE AT CAMP LOGAN, TEX.

(By Associated Press)

Houston, Tex., Aug. 23.—Three persons, two of them girls, were shot tonight near the camp of the 24th Infantry and firing in the vicinity continued for more than an hour. Citizens who attempted to get to the camp and the scene of the disorder were halted by soldiers. Telephone communication is interrupted and details of the trouble are lacking. The 24th Infantry is a Negro regiment doing guard duty at Camp Logan which is under construction.

GERMAN RAIDER IS DESTROYED BY BRITISH SHIP

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 23.—The German sea raider, See Adler, which created terror in South American waters last winter, has been sunk, according to members of a British steamship's crew here.

The German raider, they said, went down fighting hard after a battle with a British warship. Only a few of her men were saved. The ship which brought the news is said to have had 12 members of the See Adler's crew aboard.

CONTRIBUTIONS COMING IN FOR Y. M. C. A. HUT

Yesterday The Herald made an appeal for funds to be used in the erection of a suitable hut at Fort Stark for recreation of the boys and for such other purposes to which it might be suited. The contributions have already commenced to come in and $105.00 was voluntarily pledged of the first day. Contributions should be sent to the "Y. M. C. A. Hut Fund, care of the editor" Chronicle.

The Herald acknowledges the following contributions:

Mr. Barrett	$50.00
Miss Trefothen	25.00
Rev. W. P. Stanley	10.00
A Friend	5.00
A Summer Resident	$10.00
A Business Man	5.00

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 23.

Editor Herald:

I noticed in your paper today an article setting forth the needs of the Y. M. C. A. in their work among the soldiers at Fort Stark and realizing the need of a hut in this place I am enclosing ten dollars ($10) towards said building. I sincerely hope that you may soon succeed in raising sufficient funds that the building may be erected at an early date. The boys are surely worthy of anything that we may be able to do for their comfort.

Yours sincerely,

A SUMMER RESIDENT.

Portsmouth, N. H., August 23.

Editor Herald:

In response to your appeal to build a hut for "our soldier boys" and others at Fort Stark, I am enclosing five dollars ($5) I am thoroughly in sympathy with the great work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing among the men and desire to help them and also to help to bring comfort and pleasure to the boys in this way. I wish you the best of success in this undertaking.

Yours,

A BUSINESS MAN.

Juice of Lemons! How to Make Skin White and Beautiful!

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as yellowing, freckles and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion, and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smoothen rough, red hands.

EMBARGO CUTS PAPER SUPPLY

Washington, Aug. 23.—An embargo has been placed on exports of sulphur to Canada, in order that the supply for war needs of the United States may not be unduly depleted. Canadian wood pulp mills furnishing supplies for about three-fourths of the newspaper paper used in the United States will be seriously affected.

FIGHTING IN GREATEST OF SKY BATTLES

With the Lafayette Squadron in France, Aug. 23.—As the land fighting today on the western front is the greatest of all battles on the earth, so are massed aerial fighting forces on both sides fighting the greatest of all battles of the skies.

In the thick of it is the Lafayette Squadron of American fliers. They are around Verdun. Here at their headquarters today it was declared the squadron had never before in its history experienced such fierce fighting or flying. German aviators around Verdun are thick. They are vigorously aggressive. Germany has concentrated an unprecedented number of anti-aircraft guns. Her gunners are infinitely more accurate than ever before.

Nevertheless the Lafayette Squadron are daily gaining new honors and making new scores. The flyers make several patrol trips daily over the entire Verdun front and likewise participate in bombing raids far behind the German lines. The Americans' planes have been re-equipped with bomb droppers for big missiles and they carry, in addition, a quantity of small bombs for hand throwing.

Fliers today expressed the utmost indignation against the German army's newest atrocity—using exclusively in their machine guns explosive and

Inexpensive Floors that Look as Well as Hardwood

When a floor is bare and polished, it is often referred to as a "hardwood" floor, when such is not the case. The reference has come to apply more to the style than to the wood itself. There are today other woods on the market which cost far less than hardwood, are just as beautiful, and wear practically as well. We can show you these floors in beautiful colors.

Danger Ahead of Draft Dodgers.

At a time when the government is filling the ranks of the army by the most liberal conscription system ever devised it is nothing short of disgraceful for any young man of military age not to face the music and take his chances like a man. Failure to respond to the call for registration or examination is slacking of the most despicable sort and warrants the step the authorities have taken for the punishment of offenders.

That there have been too many such offenses is proved by the action that it has been deemed necessary to take. The reading public is already familiar with the ruling of Provost Marshal General Crowder, which means much to the young men who have decided to take chances in connection with this serious business. If they persist in their mistaken course the day is likely to come when they will deeply regret their action.

Under the ruling of General Crowder men who fail to appear for examination after being notified so to do are automatically accepted for service in the army and the privilege of claiming exemption before such boards is forfeited. This decree has been published broadcast throughout the land and no man is in a position to plead ignorance of the conditions. It is correctly assumed that every man who fails to meet the requirements of the draft law is doing this deliberately, and delinquents will be dealt with accordingly. After being automatically accepted for failure to appear before local exemption boards the slackers will still have the right to claim exemption before the district boards, and if they fail to do this they will be booked as members of the national army and become subject to the military authorities, and, failing to report for duty when called, they will be regarded as deserters and treated as such.

If there are any to whom this ruling may seem severe they must remember that the conscription law is the most liberal of the kind ever enacted. The government is not snatching men indiscriminately from their homes for service in the army. It is making every allowance it is possible to make for the protection of dependents of drafted men. The arrangement is eminently considerate and fair, and it is disgraceful for any young man to shirk his solemn duty at such a time. Whoever does this and finds himself in trouble as the result will have only himself to thank for his unenviable predicament.

The young men who are taking chances in this business are on dangerous ground and should change their course at once. Very few of them will be able to beat the government in the long run, and they ought not to be willing to do this if they could. In filling the ranks of the army the government has offered the young men of the country a square deal, and it should receive a square deal in return.

It is almost too much to expect that joyriding or general pleasure riding will be stopped for the purpose of saving gasoline. Persons gliding over smooth roads at from 30 to 50 miles an hour are not worrying to any extent over the supply of "juice" for the government or anybody else.

The public market is becoming very popular in some New England cities and towns. Farmers, gardeners and consumers are finding it to their advantage to get together as they are doing. Now as never before do the people realize that "A penny saved is a penny earned."

One clergyman in a sermon recently advocated social ostracism for traitors who cannot be brought within reach of the law. But what kind of a traitor is it that cannot be brought within reach of the law, and how is he to be identified for "social ostracism?"

The shoe manufacturers and operatives of Lynn, Mass., are unable to compose their differences and the shops remain closed, as they have been for a long time. The condition at such a time as this displays neither good business nor good patriotism.

Petrograd is talking of ridding itself of its non-productive elements. If it were within their power many American cities could do the same thing with profit to themselves, though it is probable that the step would not be appreciated by their neighbors.

Times are lively at Newington and growing more so every day. If our facetious contemporaries will keep track of the activities there they will not need to further inquire which side of the river the shipyard is on.

Names in Russia are a little more cumbersome than in the United States, but, after all, "What's in a name?" Here we have prohibition, while in Russia they have "Guardianship of public sobriety."

The government is urging people to make sauerkraut, the experts placing a high value on fermented foods. Is this the reason why beer was permitted to slip its head out of the bottle?

From the Exchange

Shoulder to Shoulder

(From the Portland Oregonian)
An American band marching up a Portland street playing "Rule Britannia" and the "Marseillaise" and Scotch bagpipers following them with "Marching Through Georgia" is significant of the new day. It happened when the Canadian army visitors were welcomed in Portland.

Other things happened, too. The procession was led by two flags—one American and one British. It was a union of colors that gave real evidence of the coming of spirit between the two great nations fighting the war of democracy.

The new era—the alliance of all the great free nations in the cause of liberty and law and humanity and civilization—could not have been better expressed than in the remarkable speech of the Japanese special ambassador, the previous day, at "A Pacific Port." Here is a single paragraph:

Our message is that, in this day, through its hours of shadow or of sun shine, your purpose is our purpose, your road our road and your goal our goal. It is that America and Japan will march together, work together and fight together as comrades until the end has been reached and the victory won in the struggle which involves our rights and our liberties.

Some thoughtful persons have said that they did not expect to see the day when America and Great Britain, or America and Japan, would march together shoulder to shoulder in perfect accord in the greatest cause that ever called for the mightiest effort of a common humanity. Why not? Their interests are the same. If that is not enough, their ideals are identical. What remains to divide them but the fading memories of the past? Now there are none.

The world must be made safe for all free peoples.

Greatest of Pot Boilers

(From the Baltimore American)

In the stress and storm of the save-the-world-from-starvation campaign that has been sounding a trumpet call to grow everything, can everything, it is amazing that there has been so little urged about the cabbage—greatest of pot boilers—most substantial of foods in a time when the hunger wolf is howling in the tall timbers. The cabbage is not high-brow, nothing like so high-brow as the potato, in fact, more under than social than the truly good but vulgar onion. However, there comes from out Nebraska way the comforting assurance that a record-breaking cabbage crop is in the promise. The season has been fine for cabbage all over the United States.

Before the war a mere nickel would purchase any of Baltimore's public markets enough kraut—sauerkraut—to serve a reasonable portion to a family of eight. Last winter no kraut merchant would sell less than a dime's worth, and a dime's worth had shrunk to about one-half what a nickel's worth was in the good old antebellum days. But two heads of cabbage are growing this year where only one grew in 1914. At least this is to be judged from the somewhat guarded reports about the kraut crop that are coming in from the Central West.

The cabbage is really one of the staple foods all over the world. It is not a fanciful diet like lettuce, the radish or the cucumber, but a food that spells out in calories and proteins—it has the genuine, tea-hour-day punch to it. It may not be a high-brow food, but there are thousands of high brows who have a liking for it which they do not always take the trouble to conceal. The world would be considerably more to the bad if the cabbage crop were a failure this year.

The Sigels of '48, '61-'65 And '17

(From the New York Herald)

"We fight mit Sigel!" was the proud war cry of hundreds of men of German blood and lineage who battled valiantly under General Franz Sigel in the Civil War. That cry was a vocal badge of honor in which Sigel and his fellows who fled from Germany after a fruitless fight for liberty found great glory, and even today, after a lapse of half a century the descendants of these valiant men, many of whom sealed their allegiance to their adopted country with their lives, cherish above all other things the memory of the patriotic achievements of the liberty-loving Germans of '48 who became the staunch liberty-enjoying Americans of '61-'65.

Every American, and especially those of German extraction whose ancestors "fought mit Sigel," will feel a thrill of pride over the patriotic conduct of Sigel's daughter and a grandson who was selected for the National Army. Although the young man is supporting the mother, she thinks she can manage it her boy goes to war. His grandfather fought for Lincoln and liberty, and it is right that he should do his share in the new fight for freedom. "Sparta never had a braver mother nor a more patriotic son. There may be and indisputably are traitors among the Germans in America, men who have not yet discovered what America is or stands for. There are Kaiser-loving editors of German language newspapers in this country in whose veins courses a black stream of pollution like that which for three years has been pumped out of Berlin to poison and to kill. But vile and nauseous as are the acts of those reptilian agents of the disgraced and dishonored government of Berlin, the vast majority of Americans of German lineage are as right in mind and as sound in heart as this daughter and grandson of the great lover of liberty, the great foe of autocracy whose name will sound in the war cry "We fight mit Sigel" as long as liberty stirs the hearts and desires of man.

An Interpreter Needed
(From the Baltimore Star)
Perhaps if someone explains in German to Senator La Follette why we are at war he will understand it.

What Traitors Get.
(From the New York Herald)
It is to be expected that Rowan and his friends will protest against their arrest by National Guardsmen and their detention as military prisoners. These are war times. If these trouble-makers, as charged, told farmers to let their produce rot in the fields, they are as guilty as if they exhorted soldiers to throw down their arms in face of the enemy.

There is no necessity to name this crime and its punishment.

Appreciating a Great Man

(From the Topeka State Journal)

The recent illness of former President Taft has served to illustrate the esteem in which he is held by his countrymen. Like Grover Cleveland his world became generally recognized only when he had retired from office. While he was in office Cleveland was abused and vilified not only by the opposition but by large numbers of his party associates. The same was true of Taft. It is a fact in our national life, which cannot be too seriously deprecated, that partisan politics often causes us to refuse to accord to one public man the honor and trust which are rightfully theirs. It is only when they are out of office or dead that the people do them justice. It is unfortunate that they are not given the trust and confidence which they deserve at the time when they stand in greatest need of it.

FOR WAR CAMP MINISTRY TO METHODISTS

Philadelphia, Pa., August 24.—The sum of $250,000 for war camp ministry to Methodist soldiers is being asked by the Methodist Episcopal church through its Board of Home Missions and church extension with headquarters in this city. The survey of church conditions in the neighborhood of the cantonments and other camps shows that while in most cases the Methodist Episcopal churches in the vicinity were able to perform an adequate ministry to the normal population, many of them are entirely inadequate for meeting the needs of the 150,000 Methodist soldiers who will be distributed throughout the different camps. This $250,000 will be used to equip regular Methodist Episcopal chaplains to equip and support volunteer chaplains for officers' training camps and to render more efficient Methodist churches located near the camps and to augment the equipment of those churches needing it. In order to render an adequate ministry to the Methodist boys in the camps in the name of Jesus Christ and the church back home, War emergency commissions are being appointed by the bishops of the twenty Episcopal districts in the United States, which will co-operate with the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension in raising and disbursing the money. The strongest men in the denomination will be sent to serve as pastors or associate pastors at these camp churches. Bishop Joseph F. Berry of this city is president of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church and Dr. David D. Forsyth, corresponding secretary.

Unofficial Intimation That New England Soldiers May Leave Mobilization Camps Next Week.

A significant indication of the new approach of the time when the New England troops will be ordered to move is in the form of a suggestion which emanates from the headquarters of the Twenty-Sixth Army Division, today, that parents, relatives and friends of the men in the mobilization camps make next Sunday the date and day of their final leave taking of the soldiers.

By way of qualification it is stated that "the men may be in camp for some days yet"—and also that they may be ordered into active service the first of next week.

In any case it is freely admitted at headquarters and further verified by the mutual activity both there and in the several camps that every possible effort is being made to have the troops in readiness for an immediate change of base. Transportation details on the part of the railroads are also underfoot to be practically completed and awaiting the final order from the War department.

VERY ACTIVE FOR ONE OF HER YEARS

HOME-READING COURSE FOR CITIZEN-SOLDIERS

LESSON NO. 10.

Recreation in Camp.

(Preceding Lessons: 1. Your Post of Honor. 2. Making Good as a Soldier. 3. Nine Qualities of a Soldier. 4. Getting Ready for Camp. 5. First Days in Camp. 6. Cleanliness in Camp. 7. Your Health. 8. Marching and Care of Feet. 9. Your Equipment and Arms.)

While your days in the cantonments will be spent chiefly in drilling and other forms of training, you will have a considerable amount of time left free for your own use. Under some conditions permission may be given at times to leave the cantonment for short periods. However, this is a matter to be regulated in each camp.

If you do go away from the camp on leave, you will continue to wear your uniform and will keep in mind always that you remain a soldier, subject to certain requirements that are not so definitely imposed on civilians. In meeting officers, whether in the camp or outside, you are expected always to treat them with proper courtesy and respect. You should remember also, even though you are not directly under supervision, to keep up your soldierly neatness and bearing.

Congress has provided that "it shall be unlawful to sell any intoxicating liquor, including beer, ale, or wine, to any officer or member of the military forces while in uniform," an exception being made in case of liquor required for medical purposes. Under authority of the same act it has also been ruled that alcoholic liquors shall not be sold within 5 miles of any military camp, an exception being made in case there is an incorporated city or town within that limit. It has further been provided that "the keeping or setting up of houses of ill fame, brothels, or bawdy houses within 5 miles of any military camp . . . is prohibited." All these provisions and restrictions are in the interest of every right-minded soldier. They go a long way toward insuring clean and healthful living conditions in the camps. They will help to make every soldier more efficient and better able to give a good account of himself.

One of the centers of army life in camp is the post exchange, at which articles for personal use, knickknacks, soft drinks, and so on, are sold. You will be safe in depending on the good quality and fair price of everything offered in the post exchange.

In general, the matter of playing for recreation and personal comforts in the cantonments has been entrusted by the Secretary of War to a small body of men known as the Commission on Training Camp Activities. The commission includes an Army officer and representatives of organizations that have had much experience in meeting the needs of men of the type who will go into the National Army. It will have the co-operation of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Knights of Columbus. Other associations may also work with the commission. This task of attending to the social needs of the soldiers has been organized with almost as much care and thoroughness as the bigger task of making ready for the firing line.

The Young Men's Christian Association is building a hut for the men in each brigade. In these huts moving picture, or vaudeville shows will be given every night. Writing materials can be had for the asking. A piano will be at hand. The Knights of Columbus will have one large building in each camp, in which there will be facilities of the same kind.

Both these organizations will conduct religious services every Sunday. Men of all creeds will be welcome. The secretaries and other officers in charge will be glad at any time to talk over any personal problems and to help you in any way they can. They are picked because of their willingness and skill in rendering service. They will always make you welcome. Get in touch with either of these organizations as soon as you have opportunity, after you reach camp. The chaplain attached to each regiment also looks after the spiritual and moral welfare of the men.

In every cantonment there will be a complete library building where you will be able to obtain books and magazines of all kinds. This is arranged with the help of the American Library Association.

In each cantonment the Commission on Training Camp Activities is erecting a large auditorium. This is to be used partly as a theater and partly for athletic instruction. Some of the best theatrical companies in the country will put on Broadway productions for your benefit. These performances will be free. A place will be provided for everyone.

Those men who like singing will have plenty of chances to enjoy "sing songs" on a big scale. The commission has secured the services of well-known chorus leaders to take charge of camp singing.

A great deal of attention has been given to athletics. An expert will give boxing lessons to large groups of men. This instruction is voluntary but it will be well worth your while to attend.

In some of the camps where bathing benches are not far away instruction will be given in swimming.

Team athletics, such as baseball, basketball, and football, will be developed under the guidance of expert coaches. One of the members of the commission will be in general charge of this line of activity in all the camps. Of course all these facilities are for use in your spare time only. They are not to interfere with the steady process of training which alone can make you a real soldier. However, you will enjoy your hours of recreation all the more because they have been preceded by hours of hard work. The recreation as well as the work has its place in the general plan for turning out an efficient army of self-reliant citizen soldiers in the quickest possible time.

PEOPLES' OPINION

Wants Better Service.

Editor: Just a word about the postoffice hours in this city. Is it possible that some service can be obtained there after 7:30 at night? With the city enjoying much prosperity and hundreds of summer people here, to say nothing of the many out of town workmen employed on the navy yard and the shipbuilding plant, it seems strange that the government cannot provide better service. Many complaints are heard from people forced to go to drug stores and other places for stamps, to say nothing of the other accommodations lost to the public by the closing of window service at 7:30 p. m.

Country service for a city of this size, during the summer season especially, is not keeping up with the times. Up to date arrangements are needed here and the public should have some consideration. Why not keep the stamp window open until 9 p. m. and meet the demands of business?

WANTS INFORMATION.

AS TO SEED STOCKS

Washington, Aug. 24.—The fact that in some sections there is a shortage of good seed while in others there is a surplus makes it possible for the Committee on Seed Stocks of the United States Department of Agriculture to help in the distribution of these surpluses. The committee wishes, therefore, to locate all available stocks of good seed of agricultural crops, especially wheat, oats, rye, crimson clover (in the hull or hulled), and hairy vetch. The committee will be glad if anyone, farmer or dealer, will give information in regard to the quantities and prices of seed of the above sorts which he can offer for sale.

His shipping point, bags extra or included as the case may be. The information should give in each case the name of the variety (especially in the case of grain crops), condition of the seed as to purity, year grown, and the price. The committee will then undertake to get such information into the hands of those who want the seed. The committee hopes that this request will receive wide circulation and an immediate response, as it is now time to get seed in the hands of planters for fall use. Address, Committee on Seed Stocks, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

PRISONERS WERE MURDERED, SAYS GERARD

Tells of Treatment Irishmen Received in the German Prison Camps.

Chicago, August 24.—Murder and organized starvation are features of the welcome that the Germans give Irish prisoners captured in battle, to show the great affection the Teutons have for the Celtic race.

James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany yesterday, sent a message to the Irishmen in Chicago who are under the delusion that the Irish are great favorites of the Germans.

"If the Irish people of Chicago could see, as I saw, the way the Irish prisoners were treated, if they could talk with the prisoners, if they could see the way they are dying in prison camps from starvation and tuberculosis, they would lose all sympathy for the Germans," said Mr. Gerard.

"American prisoners will probably be treated about the same way. The Germans care no more about the Irish than they do about the English. The Irish soldiers were collected in one camp at Limburg, about 2500 of them. The Germans sent Sir Roger Casement to the camp to enlist for the Irish rebellion. He got about 30 out of the lot. When he went back to the camp for more volunteers, the Irishmen chased him away and there was a near riot for a time."

Killed Irish Prisoners

"I was given secret information by the Germans that the guards were shooting and killing Irish prisoners. One prisoner was killed even while I was attempting to investigate the reported murder of one of the Irishmen. The killing of one man was concealed from me and there is no knowing how many other Irishmen were shot down by their German guards. When I tried to get information I was informed that an investigation was under way and I never was able to get any satisfactory explanation of the shootings. In one case the guard was exonerated and had the charming taste to attend the funeral of his victim. I made repeated demands to see the prisoners who were present when the men were killed, but was never able to make any headway."

Mr. Gerard has cancelled his engagement to speak in Milwaukee tonight, but hopes to be able to go to Minneapolis for a later meeting tomorrow night. He is still confined to his bed at his hotel, and while his attack of lumbago is losing its hold, Dr. Capps gave orders today that his patient must not attempt to attend the Milwaukee demonstrations.

Two detectives of the Chicago police force have been with Mr. Gerard almost constantly since he reached Chicago yesterday morning. It is a precautionary measure taken by the local authorities, as Mr. Gerard says he is not worried about the threats of German sympathizers. He receives anonymous communications which he goes but pays no attention to them, and considers his guard unnecessary. One letter received last night followed:

"Are you still pocketing a salary as ambassador, you—double-dyed political trickster and thief. Thank God I don't have to be under the same roof with such a—lying snipe."

Mr. Gerard has warned the United States government that it should be prepared to ameliorate the conditions of the United States soldiers taken prisoners by the Germans, if he hopes that there will be none.

Americans Will Suffer

"Their treatment will probably vary according to the disposition of the camp commanders," said Mr. Gerard. "They will be the victims of individual outbursts of hate, the same as the English and Irish have been. This country has a bureau to take care of the interests of the prisoners. Ellis Dresel, who was on my staff in Berlin is now in Bern, Switzerland, in charge of the American prison bureau. I have given the Red Cross a list of articles that should be secured and forwarded to the bureau for immediate use, if any Americans are captured."

"The Germans will not feed American prisoners, that is, give them enough to eat, and this country must furnish food. They should also be given sweaters, heavy shoes, underwear, overcoats, tobacco, etc."

The Herald puts over the news every day.

ARRESTED FOR THREATENING THE PRESIDENT

Austrian Quickly Turned Over to Secret Service by Fellow Workers.

Chicago, August 24.—President Wilson ought to be killed and I would do it for $10,000.

Peter Oberhofer, an Austrian of this city, had barely uttered the foregoing words when secret service agents were told about it, demonstrating how dangerous it is for enemies of the United States to express their views in public.

Oberhofer made the remark in the presence of employees in a factory where he worked. Among them were some true blue Americans who lost no time in notifying Captain Thomas Porter, head of the local secret service operations.

Peter Oberhofer hurried to the factory and soon returned with Oberhofer, who, after being questioned for half an hour, it was announced, confessed that he did make such a remark, but that it was done as a joke. Joke or no joke the Austrian was held for further hearing by Commissioner Poole.

Within 24 hours the secret service agents have questioned eight persons said to have made seditious remarks. One was a physician whose income is $3000 a year. All were warned and permitted to go.

PROCEDURE THE RED CROSS WILL FOLLOW

The American Red Cross, through its general manager, Harvey D. Gibson, today issued a statement to the 2,300 Red Cross Chapters throughout the United States, setting forth the procedure the Red Cross will follow in relation to other war relief societies.

The Red Cross will, from time to time, supply its Chapters and Societies of which it may have record, the following information:

1. Names of particular classes of articles most needed and the total amount required.
2. Amount of each class of article which the different chapters or the different societies will be asked to produce.
3. The time in which it is desired such articles shall be made and delivered to the Red Cross.

Present needs are especially for knitted articles, surgical dressings, hospital garments and comfort kits, in the order named.

After expert study and consultation with physicians, surgeons and other relief societies, complete standardized directions for making the articles mentioned have been prepared. Standard patterns have been adopted for all hospital garments required, and all pattern companies will issue identical patterns, which will be known as "Red Cross Patterns." Any garments made according to these patterns will be acceptable to the Red Cross.

Until these new directions and patterns are in the hands of the Red Cross Chapters, any of the above articles made by other societies will be accepted by Red Cross Chapters, if offered to them, handled on the same basis as Red Cross articles, and without expense to such contributing society delivered to the nearest Red Cross supply station.

The general policy of the Red Cross on this subject is set forth by Henry R. Davison, Chairman of the War Council, in the following statement:

"The Red Cross seeks to encourage the efforts of all relief organizations. It is hoped that all such organizations, which are manufacturing materials for hospital or other relief work among our allies in Europe, may become auxiliaries of the Red Cross, thus avoiding duplication. Such auxiliaries will retain their name and identity, the Red Cross will assist them in making their work effective, and with such affiliation the Red Cross will transport their materials to Europe free of charge, and see to it that such materials are properly distributed.

"Many war relief organizations have solicited contributions in kind. Some of the articles solicited have been necessary; others, while given in a spirit of a fine generosity, have not necessarily been of great benefit. Yet other articles have been sent to Europe which were not needed at all.

"Pressure upon shipping space has become very intense, and it is absolutely necessary that for the present nothing be shipped abroad which is not imperatively needed. Ocean shipping difficulties become greater each day; the submarine warfare is continued. The Red Cross cannot provide shipping arrangements for articles other than those which its investigations in Europe show to be required there.

"It is the hope that organizations which have devoted themselves merely to collecting funds will, after having used their present funds according to the designation of the donors, direct their efforts to collecting funds which may be utilized along lines for which experience acquired abroad shows a paramount need to exist.

"The Red Cross has assumed administration of the War Relief Clearing House in France, and will continue its functions. By reason of the great pressure on the French railways, it will be impossible for the War Relief Clearing House to arrange free transportation after September 1 for articles other than those which may be designated as essential in the present emergency.

"In the meantime, the American Red Cross has been co-operating successfully with the War Relief Clearing House in the United States in assisting the various relief organizations to obtain the utmost possible space for shipping to Europe from American ports. Everything offered thus far has been shipped abroad.

"It should be understood, however, that the situation as to relief organizations which prevails now as compared with that before the declaration of war by the United States, is wholly different. Prior to that time the American Red Cross had to be neutral, whereas the various relief organizations were under no such obligation. With our entry into the war, the Red Cross became free to exert itself in any way which, within the scope of its general activities, might aid our allies and allied peoples.

"We earnestly hope that no one will feel that the Red Cross desires to do anything but help. The Red Cross is an American institution, chartered by the United States government, and the President of the United States is its President. The organization belongs to the American people, and seeks in this great world emergency to do nothing more and nothing less than to coordinate the generosity and the effort of our people toward achieving a supreme aim."

SOMEWHAT TWISTED.

If there is in the United States an older newspaper than the Baltimore American, which observed its 144th anniversary last Monday, it has yet to present its claim.—Manchester Union.

How about the New Hampshire Gazette, published at Portsmouth? That venerable journal claims to have been established October 7, 1756. If the date is correct, and we have no evidence to the contrary, the Gazette will be qualified to celebrate its 161st anniversary next October. It would appear, therefore, that the Gazette was seventeen years old when the Baltimore American was born.—Baldwin Journal.

Right you are, brother. We are somewhat surprised that our Manchester editor is not better acquainted with newspaper history. However he is forgiven for the misplaced honor.

If you have a furnished room for rent, want to take boarders, or have unfurnished rooms, invest twenty-five or fifty cents in a small ad with The Herald. That will do the trick.

FARRAGUT GOLF TROPHY TOURNAMENT

Proceeds Will Be Devoted to National Red Cross Work.

The ninth annual invitation tournament for the Farragut golf trophy presented by William E. Carter, will be held at the Abenaki Club, Rye Beach, Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1. The proceeds of this tournament will be equally divided between the National Red Cross Association and the Auxiliaries of Rye and North Hampton.

Any player winning the tournament three times will become the possessor of the trophy. Other prizes will be given.

The winner in 1909 was Mr. R. H. Crowell of Cleveland, O.; in 1910 the winner was Mr. H. Kauffman of St. Louis; in 1911, the winner was Mr. J. M. G. Parker of Lowell; in 1912 the winner was Mr. Jesse P. Guilford of Manchester; in 1913 the winner was Mr. B. W. Cockran of Baltimore; in 1914 the winner was Mr. Jesse P. Guilford of Manchester; in 1915 the winner was Mr. Whitney Boudier; and in 1916 the winner was Mr. Harold C. Richards of New York City.

The tournament will be open to members of the Abenaki Club and others holding cards of invitation from the President of the Club, Mr. Robert A. Southworth; the treasurer of the Club, Mr. William E. Carter, or any other director of the Club.

Entries will close on Thursday, Aug. 30, at 9 o'clock a. m., and play in the qualifying round will begin immediately thereafter.

The first sixteen who qualify will play the first match round at 3 p. m. on Thursday, Aug. 30. The second match round will be played on Friday, Aug. 31, at 9:30 a. m. The semi-finals will be played at 3 p. m. of that same day, and the finals will be played at 9:30 a. m. on Saturday, Sept. 1.

The qualifying round will be at Medal Play and the other rounds will be at match play.

All rounds will be at eighteen holes except the final, which will be at thirty six holes, unless the tournament committee decides otherwise. A cup will be given to the winner of the tournament; match play in the first sixteen; runner-up in first sixteen match play. A Red Cross medal will be given to the player making the best score in the qualifying round, and Red Cross medals will be given to all other winners in the respective sixteen; and in the defeated eight of the first sixteen who may play their matches at any time agreeable to them. The drawing of the first sixteen will be on the plan of 1 and 2, 3 and 4, 5 and 6, 7 and 8, 9 and 10, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, 15 and 16, and 17 and 18; drawing for all other matches will be by lot.

The tournament committee reserves the right to change any of the above conditions of the tournament, and their decision in all matters connected with the tournament and in the interpretation of all golf rules, will be final. Entries should be sent to the Tournament Committee, Abenaki Club, Rye Beach, N. H. Trolley cars connect with trains on the Boston & Maine railroad, stopping at North Hampton and run direct to the Abenaki Club at Rye Beach. Entry fee, $2, which must accompany the entry.

THE BIG MATCH OF THE SEASON

Ted Kid Lewis, who recently dethroned Jack Britton as world's welterweight champion, will fight Mike O'Dowd at the Boston arena next Tuesday night. It is the big match of the season and is an especially attractive bout because of the fact that they recently fought two 10-round no-decision bouts in New York and the sport writers of that city were divided as to who should have received the award.

That they were the fastest and hardest fought battles witnessed in New York in a long time was the consensus of all the sport critics. They were not it hammer and lungs from the moment that the gong sent them at it in each session. Neither man seemed to have any great advantage in either bout. It was quite obvious that had a referee been in the ring both bouts would have been declared a dead heat.

Lewis is a great fighter. He is extremely clever but his speed and willingness is what brings home the bacon. He is a wonderful puncher, hitting with either hand. In all of his bouts with Jack Britton and other battle stars he has met in Boston Lewis fought at top speed every moment.

O'Dowd is the type of busy boxer with a hard punch and eagerness to mix it at all times. Mike will make any man in the world step to the limit to win for he is very cunning and fairly clever. He has wonderful endurance and will keep boring in all the way. O'Dowd made New York fans sit up in both of his battles with Lewis. They had never seen a more willing or competent boxer who didn't have a championship dangling from his

GREAT BRITAIN MAKES PROTEST AGAINST THE COMMANDEERING OF SHIPS

Wants All Ships Building for Her in This Country
Turned Over at Their Completion--Officials Divided in Opinion

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 23.—A division of opinion among government officials developed today over the act of Congress giving the President authority to commandeer all shipping building in American yards whether for foreign or American concerns to speed up to requirements of the Federal Shipping Board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation. Foreign shipping now building here has been commandeered by the government and when completed will total about 25,000,000 tons to be used under the administration of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

Foreign owners of ships building here are demanding that their vessels on completion be turned over to them as contracted for and the opinion of the members of the Federal Shipping Board and the fleet corporation is divided on the question.

The greatest protest comes from Great Britain and includes demands for 1,000,000 tons now building for British owners. The question is being thrashed out by officials of the state department and representatives of the British shipping firms.

A majority of the members of the Federal Shipping Board are said to be of the opinion that Great Britain's ships should be turned over to their owners as they will immediately be placed in the carrying service for war purposes and will serve the same object as would be served under direction of the American corporation.

PAY BELGIUM, SAYS T. R. TO BELGIANS

New York, Aug. 23.—If the visiting Belgian War Commission needed any words of cheering—which it probably didn't after having passed through one arduous reception Tuesday—it certainly received such encouragement yesterday afternoon at Oyster Bay, during a visit to the home of Col. Roosevelt.

Not only no immediate peace, but a big indemnity to Belgium for the wrong she has suffered and various other reparations which must be made by the Germans were advocated by the Colonel in a brief address. Following is the most striking part of it:

"The greatest menace to civilization at the present time is all the talk of an inconclusive peace. We must have a peace that is just, and no peace will be just which does not give to Belgium the heavy indemnity, and no peace will be just which does not establish a great Bohemia and a great Judo-Slav commonwealth in Austria, and which does not sign and join the formation and Italian Austrians to their Italian and Roumanian brothers. Such a peace must force the Turks from Constantinople and free the Armenians."

Belgians Applaud Sentiment

There was wild applause at this from the Belgians, and, incidentally, from T. P. O'Connor, the noted Irishman, who was a last minute guest at Sagamore Hill. It was a very patriotic little party at Oyster Bay. After the Colonel had been greeted formally by M. de Cartier de Marchienne, the Belgian Minister to the United States, he proposed this toast:

"I give you one of the most noted and heroic figures it has been my good fortune to read about—King Albert of Belgium!"

After this had been attended to, Col. Roosevelt said:

"To you Americans here, I give a toast to the heroic Belgian people. May we strive to approximate the high standards they have set!"

Whereupon T. P. O'Connor spoke up, he did, in this fashion:

"May I ask you now all to drink to the greatest American in private life?"—which, of course, was done with great zeal.

The Belgian visitors yesterday morning wandered about town at their ease, and then were picked up just before noon, and motor-whizzed out to the Piping Rock Club, Long Island, where they were entertained at luncheon by Frederick H. Conder, the international lawyer, who is a particularly good friend of Belgium as well as being the representative here of that nation, France and Russia. Following this function (at which cheerful and patriotic sentiments were expressed by everybody), the Belgians drove across to Oyster Bay and visited the Colonel.

Delegates Informally Entertained

Upon their return to New York at 7 o'clock the Belgian visitors were guests at a private dinner at the Billmore of their compatriots. Their official errand having come to an end on the previous day, they simply enjoyed themselves without bothering about oratory.

They will remain in or about New York for several days. One day next week—the exact date not being settled—they will visit West Point and review the cadets.

Baron Moncheur, head of the mission, said yesterday:

"We are extremely grateful to the citizens of this great city for their welcome. Personally, I am no stranger here, having been for eight years Minister from Belgium to the United States. But my conferees are all pleased and delighted with the metropolis, of which they have heard so much and whose generosity toward Belgium they have had ample occasion to learn."

One of the most fitting ceremonies that New York has had a chance to witness in these late war-weighted months will be performed this morning in the usually unfrequented south field of Central Park.

The representatives of the nation which fired the first gun against the invading Huns in Europe—the Belgians—will review on the grassward the representatives of the latest fighting force, which is expected to bring Hohenzollern to its knees and make the world safe for democracy—this particular unit of the American Army being the Seventh Regiment, N. G. U. S., which has for decades been the pride of the town.

Baron Moncheur and his associates of the Belgian War Commission asked as a favor the other day that they might see some of the Yankee lads who are going over soon to wipe out the outrages of the "scrap of paper" and Louvain, and the killing of Edith Cavell and the like. And so the authorities here decided to turn out the crack Seventh for the overseas visitors.

The review will be at 11 o'clock this morning, Major Gen. Dan Appleton, in the reviewing party with the Belgians.

JEWES HERE ARE WORKING IN AID OF RUSSIAN JEWS

The frightful havoc wrought by the Germans in the recent advance of their armies into Russia, with the consequent suffering and death among the non-combatant population, is told in recent cables received during the past week by the Central Committee for the Relief of Jews Suffering Through the War. These cables, received through the State Department, indicate that the Jews in the territory newly occupied by the German armies due to the Russian retreat, have suffered the most severely, and that there are hundreds of thousands of new Jewish refugees as a consequence. These refugees, the cables which are from Herman Bernstein, a director of the Central Committee, now in Russia, and prominent Jews in Russia set forth, are shelterless almost rainless, without food and in many cases ill from deprivation and want.

As a result of the cables, the Central Committee, of which Leon Kaminsky is chairman, has addressed a nation-wide appeal to its constituents throughout the United States, to immediately send contributions, especially for the Jews of Charkov, Poltava, and other cities immediately beyond the reach of the invading forces, and which through the collapse of the Russian offensive in Galicia, are more particularly affected.

"New wave of Jewish refugees, breadless and shelterless—need of relief most urgent," is the way one cable from Mr. Bernstein, who is now in Petrograd, reads. "Refugees are coming in large numbers from Bessarabia and Podolia, driven by German advances," is the way another cable reads.

Six million dollars, it is said, is absolutely needed to keep the body and souls together of the new refugees, affected by this last German onslaught, and with which sum there are to be maintained old men, women and children and orphans and wounded Jewish soldiers. It is only to American Jewry that stricken Russia can look, as nowhere else it is possible to obtain adequate funds to meet the tremendous need.

Contributions to the Central Committee should be addressed to Harry Fischel, Treasurer, 61 Chambers St., and will be placed to the credit of the $10,000,000 fund which the Jews of America are now raising and which is being disbursed through the Joint Distribution Committee of which Felix M. Warburg is the chairman.

GERMAN SPY USED MOTHER AS GO-BETWEEN

(By Associated Press)

Richmond, Va., Aug. 23.—William F. Nain, 36 years old, under arrest here charged with being a German spy, told the police he was one of fourteen spies working in the United States for the direction of the German government. Maps, charts, explanatory notes and other papers were found on Nain, and an express package he had forwarded to Charlottesville containing other information said to be for the German government was intercepted.

The prisoner is reported to be from Montreal and the son of a Scotch-Irish father and a German mother. He said he was sending information to his mother at Montreal.

CONGRESS MAY CLOSE SEPT. 10

Washington, Aug. 23.—All House Democrats were today summoned back for Aug. 29 under plans to dispose of all business before the House before Sept. 10. What happened toward adjournment thereafter will depend on the Senate and conferences on pending bills.

FRACTIONAL LOSSES

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Aug. 23.—Copper shares showed fractional losses in the early trading on the local exchange today. Rumors regarding government war-time action had a bearish effect.

28 STATES PLEDGE HOOVER THEIR HELP

Washington, Aug. 23.—Food Commissioners representing twenty-eight states conferred today with United States Food Administrator Hoover regarding the work to be performed by them in helping to conserve the nation. Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, in charge of the food conservation work for the government, explained briefly the plan of the country in the policies of the food administration. He detailed many of the steps being taken for spreading information. The State representatives promised their hearty support.

Corn Crop Believed Safe

Most of the record breaking corn crops will be past the point where frost can damage it at the average date of the first killing frost. In spite of the fact that the crop is from ten to fifteen and in places even twenty days later than the average at this season in central and northern districts.

Reports to the weather bureau today brought this information as well as good news from Kansas, where the last forecast of the Department of Agriculture indicated that the production would be only half that indicated a month before. The Kansas crop, the reports said, was recovering from the effect of the previous drought.

The bean growers and dealers of the country have notified the Food Administration that they are ready to do everything within their power to help to benefit the American consumer through a reasonable price for their products. Both the producers and dealers said they would co-operate in producing and distributing as large a supply of beans as possible, expecting only a fair profit.

Would Quit Speculating.

They offered the Food Administration the privilege of examining their books in order that a just profit may be determined. They also recommended that dealing in future beans or selling the crop before maturity be discontinued.

Aug. 23, 27, and 30 have been designated "educational days" by the Food Administrator in response to requests from those throughout the country who are eager to receive the fullest information on food conservation.

Government officials have consented to speak at meetings on these dates in the Smithsonian Auditorium in this city. Among those are Herbert Hoover, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Vrooman, Dr. Alonzo Taylor and Graham Lusk. The addresses cover all phases of the international food situation, food survey, wheat and meat needs, milk and dairy conditions, transportation and other topics.

NATION WIDE FOOD SURVEY TO BE MADE AT ONCE

Washington, Aug. 23.—The government is to take stock of the Nation's food supply.

In order that the President, Congress, and the other officials of the Government may be able to base needed action on a knowledge of what the national border contains, and how it measures up to the needs of the millions of breakfast, dinner, and supper tables of the Nation, the United States Department of Agriculture will begin immediately to make a quick survey of available foods and feeds throughout the country. This will cover supplies on farms, in factories, and commercial stores and warehouses, in retail shops, and on the shelves and in the bins of the family pantry. The work will be carried on principally by the Bureau of Markets, the Bureau of Crop Estimates, the Bureau of Chemistry, and States Relations Service of the Department, with funds appropriated for the purpose in the recently enacted food production bill.

The survey is to be made as to the date of August 31, and it is expected that the statistics on the amounts of certain important products can be supplied within three or four weeks after the food survey is begun.

In carrying out the nation-wide food survey, both actual inventories and estimates will be employed. Estimates of the food and feed products on farm will be made for the whole country by the Bureau of Crop Estimates through 35,000 picked co-operators in the field. Information regarding stocks in wholesale, jobbing, storing, manufacturing and other commercial establishments, including large retail houses will be obtained by requesting from each concern a statement of the exact amount of each of the various products held by it. Comprehensive lists of such establishments compiled by the Bureau of Markets within the last few years will be employed in this work.

The stocks on hand in small retail shops will be estimated from information gained from a detailed survey of stocks in a number of representative districts. Stocks in hands of all the consumers of the country will be estimated similarly from canvasses of a large number of representative families, both in the country and in the cities. The study of families, will be concerned even more with the current consumption per month than with the actual stock of food supplies on hand. Small retail stocks will be reported for representatives cities by the Bureau of Chemistry through its food and drug inspectors and State and local health officials and inspectors, and for representative country districts by the States, Relations Service (throughout county agents and local farm bureaus and other local agencies. Through these agencies certain selected districts will be canvassed and an estimate will then be made for the entire country.

Products to be Surveyed

The nearly 100 items on which statistics are to be gathered include grains and seeds, grain-food products, dried fruits and nuts, vegetable fats, sugar, sirups, starch, meat and meat products, food products preserved in tin and other containers, dairy and related products, fish, and feeds.

The department's plans contemplate making immediately a quick survey of the holding of approximately 18 of the more important products, following this with monthly reports on such products and making a more complete survey after the crops have been gathered. It is proposed to utilize in so far as possible existing established agencies within the department in the conduct of the survey, but the department, of course, desires the hearty co-operation and support of all State and local agencies.

STR. DEVONIAN SUNK BY U-BOAT

The Leyland liner, Devonian, which sailed from Boston, July 28, with a $2,000,000 cargo, has been torpedoed off the Irish coast. The fate of her officers and crew is in doubt. There were no passengers.

CLEAN HEALTHY SEED ESSENTIAL

Washington, Aug. 23.—Sound, clean healthy seed is the first requisite for the largely increased wheat crop which the United States Department of Agriculture hopes to see harvested next year. Whatever the source of supply farmers will find it to their advantage, says the department, to see that only good seed is planted. What has been said is equally true of seed for the rye crop which the department hopes to see much larger than usual next year.

If a farmer has seed from his own crop which is satisfactory so far as variety and general condition are concerned, he should lose no time in getting it into shape for storage until planting time. The fanning mill is the farmer's best friend in this task. The farmer should by all means have such a mill and if he has not and is unable to obtain one, should borrow or rent his neighbor's mill, or several farmers can join in buying one. A fanning mill removes weed seeds, smut and shriveled grain and leaves only plump kernels, practically every one of which may be depended upon to produce a thrifty plant. After it is cleaned, however, the seed should be treated in order that the smut may be prevented. Smut is less likely to be prevented by seed treatment, but the use of fanning mill will assist materially in improving the crop grown from seed known to have smutty kernels.

If the farmer is dependent on outside sources for his seed he should buy from his neighbor if possible, so that he may be more likely to get seed well adapted to his conditions. It is advisable to buy as soon after harvest as possible as this time prices are likely to be lowest. If the farmer delays, his neighbors may dispose of all their surplus grain and he may be forced to plant seed grown under conditions radically different from his own. If the farmer patronizes a seedsmann he should insist on getting seed grown as near his section as possible.

If seed is affected by diseases, careful inspection will usually disclose the fact. The presence of stinking smut in what is indicated by the odor and the presence of smut by the appearance of the kernels. Purchased seed should, of course, be cleaned and treated for the destruction of the spores of disease producing fungi. If the examination shows this to be necessary.

In choosing varieties of wheat the farmer should be guided by the experience of his neighbors and the advice of his State Experiment Station. This is true also of rye, but there are available fewer varieties of rye than of wheat. The stations can furnish comparative statistics on the yields and behavior of varieties of the two cereals.

After to grain farmer has produced a supply of satisfactory seed he should store it carefully so that it will keep in good condition and will be safe from the depredations of rats, mice and insects. Bins which are supposedly rat proof are available on practically all farms and it will pay farmers to see that they are kept in good condition to keep out the rodents. Ketches and traps should be used.

TO DISCONTINUE TWENTY-RIDE TICKET BOOKS

The Boston and Maine railroad has advised the Public Service Commission that it proposes to discontinue the sale of 20-ride ticket books on the Portsmouth Electric railway.

These 20-ride ticket books have been furnished to the traveling public for a number of years. There being no reduction from the single fare rate of 5 cents the books have of late been available of only to a very limited extent. During the six months' period ending July 1, the company sold only 16 of the books. The railroad believes that this does not show a sufficient public demand to justify the extra amount of bookkeeping involved in furnishing the tickets and the additional expense to which it is put in printing them.

I WONDER

What the local war board will do with the dodgers?

Go the freak edict on straw hats will go out again this year?

Why the paving has been patched on Congress street and not on the other streets of the business section?

Why so many of the old numbers are allowed to remain on the houses of this city?

If the association will ever succeed in getting things cleaned up around the Liberty flag staff on Water street?

Where all the soldier boys are going who left this city on Thursday?

Why a hotel street barber is talking so much politics and if he intends to come back in Ward Five?

If he knows anything about the missing key to that ward room?

What the local politicians are doing in Washington?

If the Borax Club will spread itself this year with another open air banquet and if they can keep the president safe from the war draft?

What that man from York, Me., thought on Thursday when he attempted to tell the local war board a few things?

If the Yorker didn't make a quick escape without leaving even a calling card?

If the boys will need the pocket flashlights any more since the street lights were put in on Little Harbor road?

Why the Portsmouth Electric Railway never opened a public waiting room in connection with the line?

POLICE COURT

Richard Gray, from somewhere in York county, crossed the Piscataqua on Thursday and picked up a couple of Kittery sports on the way over. The trio visited several illuminating parlors and got pretty well lit up. The three were holding a gab fest against one of the brass rails in the North End when one of the Kittery escorts noticed that the time piece on the end of his chain was not in its customary place. He accused Gray of being light fingered and separating him from his watch. Gray, denied it at first but finally returned the stolen property. The return of the watch did not satisfy the Kittery man and he had Sir Richard pinched. The court imposed a sentence of 30 days in jail and costs of $7.50. The jail sentence was later suspended and the defendant paid the costs.

Frank Starkey of Portland and two others from the same port were also Maine visitors here on Thursday. They came via auto and after anchoring the machine went on a sightseeing tour by foot. When the hour for the home-ward trip came the whole outfit was completely soiled. The police looked Starkey for trying to navigate a machine while drunk and ordered a fine of $25 and costs of $6.18. A jail sentence of 60 days was suspended.
